喜欢的公共建筑

Describe a building you enjoy visiting (e.g. a library or shopping mall)

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Location of this building
- How you first learned about it
- Its appearance
- Why you enjoy visiting it

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about K11, a public building in downtown Guangzhou. It has several floors of shops, offices above them and art exhibitions from time to time.

I first heard about K11 from a friend who likes art and design. Inside, there are artworks, colourful lights and small design displays. It feels more creative than a normal shopping centre. We sometimes visit a new exhibition together and take photos of interesting details.

The displays change quite often, so there is usually something new to look at. It is also easy to reach by public transport, and I can stay indoors when Guangzhou is very hot. I don't always buy anything there. Sometimes I just look around and photograph details for my design work.

I enjoy K11 because I can see art in an everyday place. It gives me ideas for my own design work, even when I don't buy anything.

我想介绍广州中心的 K11。这是一栋公共建筑，有几层商店、楼上的办公室，还会不定期举办艺术展览。
我最早从喜欢艺术和设计的朋友那里听说
K11。里面有艺术品、彩色灯光和小型设计展陈，比普通商场更有创意。我们有时会一起看展览、拍下有趣的细节。 展览内容经常变化，所以总有新东西可看。交通很方便，广州天气热时还能待在室内。我不一定会买东西，有时只是逛一逛，给自己的设计工作找灵感。 我喜欢 K11，因为在日常生活中也能看到艺术。即使没有购物，我也能获得一些设计灵感。

Q02 | 180 WORDS

不喜欢的短途旅行

Describe a short trip you often take but do not like

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Where you travel to
- When you usually make this trip
- Your reason for making it
- Why you dislike this regular trip

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a short trip to a forest park in Guangzhou. It has a large lake, but I don't always enjoy visiting it.

On weekends, my friend and I often go to Dafu Mountain Forest Park. It has a large lake, and she enjoys cycling there, so she often asks me to join her. We usually go after lunch, when it is much hotter than in the morning.

We usually rent bikes near the entrance and ride along the paths beside the lake. The trees and water are beautiful, but the park is huge and Guangzhou can be extremely hot, especially in the afternoon.

After a while, I feel tired and sweaty. I just want to find some shade and rest. Sometimes I think staying home with the air conditioner would be much easier. We chat while riding, but the strong afternoon sun still makes it hard to enjoy.

I still go because I enjoy spending time with my friend. The main reason I don't like the trip is that cycling in the afternoon heat is exhausting.

■■■■ / CHINESE REFERENCE

我想说一段我经常走、但并不太喜欢的短途行程。周末我和朋友经常去离家不远的一座大公园，里面有一个湖。她喜欢骑车，觉得这样既能运动又能放松，所以经常约我一起去。我们通常在入口附近租自行车，沿着湖边的小路骑行。树木和湖水都很漂亮，但公园很大，而且广州的天气非常热，尤其是下午。骑了一阵后，我就觉得又累又热，只想找个阴凉的地方休息。有时候我觉得在家吹空调可能更轻松。不过我还是会去，因为我喜欢和朋友一起度过时间。要是让我选，我会更喜欢轻松一点的活动。 我们边骑车边聊天，但下午强烈的阳光还是让我很难享受这趟行程。

Q03 | 179 WORDS

拥挤地方

Describe a crowded place that you have visited

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Where it was
- When you visited
- The person who went with you
- What you did there
- How you felt about that visit

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about K11, a crowded shopping centre in downtown Guangzhou.

I went there with a friend on a weekend afternoon. It was very crowded near the escalators and the food area. We had to walk slowly, and it was hard to find a seat.

We moved from floor to floor, but many shops were chain stores we had already seen before. Some areas were also closed for renovation, so there was less to look at than we expected.

We stayed for nearly two hours, but we bought almost nothing. In the end, we just got coffee and left. I remember thinking that a short visit had taken much more time than I planned. Even the café area was full, so we had to wait before we could order. The noise also made it difficult to have a proper conversation. I don't mind a busy place if there is something special to see. But that day, the crowds made everything stressful.

For me, K11 feels too crowded on weekend afternoons, so I prefer visiting on weekday mornings.

我印象很深的拥挤地方是广州的 K11。有个周末下午，我和朋友一起去，扶梯和餐饮区附近挤满了人，走路很慢，也很难找到座位。我们一层层逛，却发现很多是早就见过的连锁店，还有些地方在装修，能看的东西比预期少。我们待了将近两个小时，几乎没买任何东西，最后只喝了咖啡就离开。我觉得短短一次逛街竟花了这么久。最困扰我的是人群太多；我仍然喜欢这栋建筑，但现在更愿意工作日早上去。连咖啡区都坐满了，我们点单前还要等。人声也让聊天变得困难。我不介意热闹的地方，但那天拥挤让整个体验更有压力，而不是享受。

学习并喜欢历史的人

Describe a person who learns and loves history

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who the person is
- How they study history
- What makes them interested in history
- Your opinion of this person

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is a pottery friend who loves learning about Chinese pottery history.

My friend is a pottery craftsperson and she runs a small studio. She is interested in the history of Chinese pottery, so she often looks at old bowls, shapes and patterns in museums or online.

She does not just copy old designs. She takes ideas from them and makes colourful cups, small sculptures and character-shaped pieces. She still shapes the clay by hand and fires it in a kiln.

I have watched her work in the studio, and she can make small changes very quickly. I like the way she keeps the traditional technique but makes the final pieces look modern. She often compares pieces from different periods and explains how their shapes or patterns have changed. I find that interesting because she does not treat history as something that only exists in books. She can connect it with the things she makes today.

So I think she is a great example of someone who loves history because she uses old ideas to make modern pottery.

■■■■ / CHINESE REFERENCE

我想说一位喜欢研究历史的朋友，尤其是中国陶艺史。她是一名陶艺工作者，经营着小工作室，常在博物馆或网上研究古老的碗、器型和图案。她不直接照搬旧设计，而是从中汲取灵感，制作彩色杯子、小雕塑和角色造型的作品，同时坚持手工塑形、用窑烧制。我看过她在工作室操作，能很快调整作品的细节。我喜欢她保留传统技术、又让成品看起来现代的方式。她把历史真正运用在作品里，让那些旧知识变成看得见、做得出的东西。 她会比较不同时期的作品，解释器型和图案如何变化。我觉得有趣，因为她不把历史当成书本里的知识，而是能联系到今天制作的东西。

小时候学到的新技能

Describe a new skill you learned when you were a child

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- The skill you learned
- Who taught you
- Your learning process
- How learning it made you feel

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a skill I learned as a child: making snow-skin mooncakes.

One Mid-Autumn Festival when I was little, my mother taught me to make snow-skin mooncakes at home. She wanted us to make something together instead of buying everything from a shop.

First, she showed me how to wrap sweet filling inside soft dough. Then we pressed the dough into a mould to make a pattern on top. It looked easy when she did it.

But I pressed mine too hard, and it came out in a strange shape. My mother laughed and showed me how to press more gently. The dough was a little sticky, so controlling the pressure was the hardest part. After a few tries, I finally made one that looked right.

I felt proud when we ate the mooncakes together that evening. It was a simple skill, but I still remember the steps and how patient my mother was.

我小时候学过的技能是做冰皮月饼。有一年中秋节，妈妈在家教我做月饼，因为她希望我们一起动手，而不是什么都在店里买。她先教我把甜馅包进柔软的饼皮，再用模具压出图案。她做得很轻松，我却第一次压得太用力，月饼形状变得奇怪。妈妈笑着教我轻一点。面团有些黏，所以控制力度是最难的部分。练习几次后，我终于做出了像样的月饼。那天晚上大家一起吃，我很自豪，也一直记得妈妈耐心教我的过程。

尊敬的比你年长的人

Describe someone older than you that you admire

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who they are
- How you came to know them
- Things you like doing together
- How you feel about them

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is an older friend who runs a small pottery studio.

She is a few years older than me. One day, she invited me to her studio and taught me how to make a small animal from clay.

She showed me how to keep my hands steady and how much pressure to use. I wanted to make a rabbit, but the shape slowly turned into something closer to a bear.

She did not take the clay away and fix it for me. She explained what I could change and let me try again. The final piece was not perfect, but I was proud that I finished it myself. We still talk about her work and sometimes share photos of new pieces. I enjoy spending time with her because she never makes me feel silly when I am learning something new. She is patient without making a big deal out of it.

So I think she is someone I respect because she is both skilled and patient. She lets me learn from mistakes instead of doing the work for me.

■■■■ / CHINESE REFERENCE

我尊敬的一位年长者是一位做陶艺的朋友。她比我大几岁，自己经营着小工作室。有一天她邀请我过去，教我用黏土做小动物。她示范怎样稳住双手、控制力度。我本想做兔子，结果慢慢做得更像熊。她没有拿走作品替我修好，而是解释哪里可以调整，让我自己再试。成品不完美，但能独立完成让我很自豪。我尊敬她的技术和耐心：即使我出错，她也不会让我觉得自己很笨，而是帮我理解问题、重新尝试。
我们现在还会聊她的工作，偶尔分享新作品的照片。我喜欢和她相处，因为学新东西时，她从不会让我觉得自己很笨。

Q07 | 176 WORDS

嘈杂地

Describe a noisy place you have been to

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Where the place is
- When you visited it
- What you did there
- Why you consider it noisy

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a very noisy K-pop concert I attended in Hong Kong.

We had been fans of the same K-pop group for years, so the three of us were excited long before the show started.

Before the concert, we had dinner near the venue and talked about the songs we hoped to hear. Once the lights went down, the crowd started cheering and singing along, and I could hardly hear my friends beside me. Even during the quieter songs, people were clapping and shouting the members' names. There were huge screens and strong lights, and the sound seemed to come from every direction. It was much louder than a normal event, but the atmosphere was exciting.

During the concert, I could feel the loud music through the floor. When the singers asked everyone to sing along, the whole venue became even louder. My friends and I shouted the lyrics together.

Looking back, I enjoyed the noise because everyone was cheering for the same performance. Normally I would find that volume tiring.

我想介绍香港的一场 K-pop 演唱会，那里非常吵。我和两位好友都喜欢这个组合很多年，演出前在场馆附近吃饭，一直讨论想听的歌曲。灯光暗下后，全场开始尖叫和合唱，我几乎听不见朋友说话。音乐很响，甚至能感觉地板在震动；歌手让大家一起唱时，整个场馆声音更大，我们也跟着大声唱。平时我不喜欢太吵的地方，但那天所有人都因为音乐而兴奋，我反而很享受。即使是比较安静的歌曲，大家也会拍手、喊成员的名字。现场有大屏幕和强烈灯光，声音仿佛从四面八方传来，比普通活动吵得多，但气氛很热烈。

想颁布的环保法律

Describe an environmental law you would like your country to introduce

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- What kind of law you would propose
- Why people should follow it
- Whether people would welcome the law
- Your feelings about this proposal

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a plastic-bottle recycling reward law that I'd introduce in my country.

I got the idea after reading about a bottle-return system in Germany. People can take empty plastic drink bottles to a recycling machine in a supermarket. In Germany, people can get back a deposit they paid when buying certain drinks.

In my version, people could get a few points or a small shopping discount for every bottle they return. They could still buy bottled drinks as usual, so the law would not take away their choices.

I think many people would support it because a small daily habit could bring a real benefit. If more bottles were collected, there would be less plastic waste and more material for recycling. The machines are easy to use, and people do not need to learn a complicated process. Shops could put clear signs near the entrance, so even people who have never recycled a bottle would know what to do. I think convenience is important if we want people to keep doing it.

I think this law would be popular because people could earn small rewards without losing their choice of drinks.

我希望国家引入一项环保法律，叫做「塑料瓶回收奖励法」。这个想法来自我在网上读到的德国退瓶制度。人们可以把用过的塑料饮料瓶送到超市里的回收机器。在德国，购买部分瓶装饮料时，人们先支付押金，退回空瓶后可以取回押金。在我的方案中，每回收一个塑料瓶，人们可以获得一点积分或购物优惠。大家仍然可以照常购买瓶装饮料，所以不会失去原来的选择。我认为很多人会支持，因为一个小小的日常习惯就能带来实际好处。如果更多瓶子得到回收，塑料垃圾会减少，也有更多材料能循环利用。我会很高兴看到这项法律通过奖励而非惩罚，鼓励更多人保护环境。回收机器容易使用，不需要复杂流程。商店可以在入口放清楚的指示，让第一次回收的人也知道怎么做。要让人长期坚持，方便很重要。

遇到的科技问题

Describe a challenging technological problem you faced

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- The technical problem
- When and where it happened
- What made it challenging
- How you managed to solve it

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a problem with my smartwatch. Its battery suddenly started running out very quickly.

I bought it about a year ago to track my exercise and sleep. I usually check my steps after work, so I use it almost every day.

One week, I noticed that the battery hardly lasted until the evening. I had to charge it much more often than before, even when I was not using it much.

At first, I thought the battery might be getting old. I tried charging it fully and turning off some functions, but it still lost power too quickly. I was worried that I might need to pay for a new battery. I wanted to check the simple solutions first.

Then I searched online and found people with the same problem. One comment suggested updating the system. I followed the steps and installed the update.

After the update, the battery lasted much longer again. I was relieved because I could use the watch throughout the day without charging it twice.

我想说智能手表的一次故障：它的电池突然变得非常不耐用。
我大约一年前买了它来记录运动和睡眠。下班后经常看步数，所以几乎每天都用。
有一周，我发现电量连晚上都撑不到。明明没有怎么使用，却必须比以前更频繁地充电。起初我以为电池老化了。我尝试充满电、关闭部分功能，但电量还是掉得很快。我担心要花钱换电池，所以想先看看有没有简单的解决办法。
后来我上网搜索，发现其他人也遇到同样的问题。有人建议更新系统，我便按照步骤安装了更新。
更新后，电池又能用很久了。我松了口气，因为不用一天充两次电也能正常使用手表。

当地新闻

Describe a piece of local news that people are interested in

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- What the news was about
- Where you came across it
- Who was involved
- Why local people cared about it

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a short local-news video about a pottery market in my city.

I found it on social media and almost skipped it because I used to think pottery was old-fashioned. The clip was only about two or three minutes long, so it was easy to finish.

The video showed hands shaping clay and then showed the finished pieces. There were colourful cups, small sculptures and cute character-shaped objects, not just plain bowls.

Some young makers said they wanted more local people to visit the market and discover traditional crafts. The event also gave local artists a chance to sell their work. I liked that idea because their pottery looked modern and fun. I also liked that the reporter let the makers speak in their own words instead of only showing finished products. It made the market feel like a real community event, and helped me understand why local people cared about it.

I think the video was worth watching because it showed me that traditional pottery can be colourful and modern.

我记得一则本地新闻，是社交媒体上的陶艺市集短视频。我原本觉得陶艺很老派，差点划过去，不过视频只有两三分钟，就看完了。视频先展示双手塑形，再展示完成的作品：彩色杯子、小雕塑、可爱的角色造型，而不只是普通的碗。几位年轻创作者说，他们希望更多年轻人注意传统手艺。我很喜欢这个想法，因为旧技术也能做出有趣、现代的作品。看完我想亲眼看看这些作品，后来还去了陶艺工作室，这完全改变了我对陶艺的印象。
我还喜欢记者让摊主自己讲述，而不只是展示成品。这让市集更像真实的社区活动，也让我理解当地人为什么在意它。

长期追求/目标

Describe a long-term goal or ambition you would like to achieve

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- How long you have wanted this
- What your ambition is
- Your plan for achieving it
- Why you chose that goal

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about my long-term goal of building a small online art platform.

I've wanted to work on an art project like this for some time. The idea became clearer after I saw how my friend Claire runs her online art business.

Her platform works with artists and lets customers preview how a painting might look on a wall before buying it. That showed me how design and technology could solve a simple problem.

For my own platform, I would first ask a few artists what they need and try the idea with a small group. I would also need to learn more about management, branding and communication. I would not try to build a big business straight away. I would begin with a simple version, test whether people find it useful and improve it based on their feedback. That would make the goal less risky and more realistic.

This goal combines my interests in art, design and technology. I hope it can also help independent artists.

想从事医疗行业的人

Describe someone who wants to work in the medical field

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- When you met the person
- When their career interest began
- The medical job they want
- Why they wish to do that work

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is my friend Claire, who wants to become a doctor.

I knew her at school. She became interested in medicine after watching a Korean medical drama. The doctors had to stay calm, make quick decisions and help people in difficult situations. That made her respect the job.

Later, she did some volunteer work in her community. She helped with simple health activities, looked after people who needed help and organised small tasks with the other volunteers.

She thinks that experience taught her how to care for people and handle practical work. She believes those skills will help her become a good doctor in the future. She has also read about the training doctors need and knows that it takes many years. She knows the work won't be easy. But she wants to use what she learns to help people. That is why she takes this career choice seriously.

So I think she would suit medical work because she is patient, organised and willing to keep studying.

Q14 | 172 WORDS

近期改变

Describe a change you made recently

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- What you changed
- What prompted the change
- The steps you took
- Your feelings about the change

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a recent change in my exercise and sleep habits.

I bought my smartwatch about a year ago to track exercise and sleep. More recently, I started checking it regularly instead of forgetting about it after work.

I also use a sleep app at night, so I notice when I have been going to bed too late. The watch does not force me to exercise, but the numbers make my habits easier to see.

Before, I often lost track of time and forgot to move when I was busy. Now I try to take short walks and go to bed at a more regular time. I started with small changes instead of making a strict timetable. For example, I leave my walking shoes near the door and put my phone away before bedtime. These little reminders make it easier to follow the plan, even after a busy day.

Looking back, the change was small, but I feel healthier because I take more regular walks and check my sleep.

印象深刻的聚会

Describe a party for a special event that impressed you a lot

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- The time and place of the party
- What occasion it celebrated
- Approximately how many people attended
- Why this party left an impression

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a fan gathering after a K-pop concert in Hong Kong. It was a small party to celebrate the show.

I went there with my two close friends. We had been fans of the same K-pop group for years, so the three of us were excited long before the show started.

After the concert, we met some other fans at a café near the venue. There were about twelve of us, and we shared photos, talked about our favourite songs and laughed a lot.

We compared the pictures we had taken and talked about our favourite parts of the concert. Some people had travelled from other cities, but everyone was friendly and easy to talk to. Before leaving, we took a group photo and exchanged social media accounts so we could keep in touch.

The gathering impressed me because we all loved the same music. I am normally quite shy around strangers, but that evening it was easy to make new friends.

喜欢的城市自然之地

Describe a natural place in your city that you enjoy visiting

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Where this place in your city is
- What it looks and feels like
- How frequently you visit
- Who you normally go with
- Why you enjoy the place

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a large forest park with a lake in Guangzhou. It is one of my favourite natural places in the city.

One weekend morning, my friend and I rented bikes near the entrance and rode along the paths beside the lake. We could stop whenever we wanted to take photos and enjoy the view.

There are green hills, tall trees and quiet paths around the water. We could hear birds and feel the cool air under the trees. The lake is my favourite part because the water reflects the trees when the weather is calm.

I usually go there with a close friend on free weekend mornings, when it is not too hot. She likes taking photos of the lake and little paths. We normally spend an hour or two there, so it doesn't need a whole day.

I enjoy this place because I can exercise and enjoy nature without leaving the city. It feels much more relaxing than a busy shopping centre. There are also places to sit, so we can enjoy the view when we're tired.

浪费时间的活动

Describe an activity you do regularly that you think is a waste of time

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- What the activity is
- When you normally do it
- Why you continue doing it
- Why you consider it a poor use of time

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about an activity I often waste time on: scrolling through social media.

After work, my smartwatch often shows that I have hardly moved all day. I plan to go for a walk, but I pick up my phone first to relax. I check K-pop updates and short videos about art and design.

Sometimes I find something interesting. For example, I once saw a short video about a local pottery market. It showed colourful cups, small sculptures and cute character-shaped pieces. That video changed my old impression that pottery was boring.

But most of the time, I just keep scrolling. I see similar videos again and again, and sometimes almost two hours pass before I notice. The next video starts automatically, so I become curious about it. I may plan to scroll for five minutes, but it can easily take much longer.

I think scrolling wastes time because it is easy to keep going without noticing. I would rather set a time limit and put my phone away when it rings.

教你新技能的人

Describe a person who taught you a new skill

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who taught you
- The skill you learned
- How you learned it
- How you felt about your teacher

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is my pottery friend, who taught me how to shape clay by hand.

She is a few years older than me and has her own small pottery studio. One day, she invited me there and taught me how to make a small animal from clay.

She showed me how to keep my hands steady and how much pressure to use. I wanted to make a rabbit, but the shape slowly turned into something closer to a bear.

She did not take the clay away and fix it for me. She explained what I could change and let me try again. The final piece was not perfect, but I was proud that I finished it myself. She also explained why the clay needed to be at the right level of softness before shaping it. I liked that she showed each step slowly and let me practise instead of expecting me to get it right immediately. Her way of teaching made the whole process less stressful.

I learnt the basic steps of shaping clay, but I also learnt to be patient when things go wrong. That's why I still remember her lesson.

喜欢拍照的人

Describe someone you know who really likes taking photos

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who they are
- When and how you met
- Places where they take photos
- Your feelings about the person

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is my friend Claire, who really enjoys taking photos.

Claire and I met at school more than ten years ago. We used to draw together after class. One weekend morning, we rented bikes near the entrance and rode along the paths beside the lake. We could stop whenever we wanted to take photos and enjoy the view.

She stopped several times to photograph the lake, green hills and little paths. She likes natural light and can make ordinary places look beautiful. She also takes photos of art displays when we visit K11. She often takes pictures when we travel or visit a new place, but she does not only photograph famous sights. She notices small things like shadows, signs and reflections in the water. Sometimes she asks me to stand in the picture, but she also takes many photos of the scenery. I admire her patience because she is willing to wait for the right light.

After our trip, she sent me a small photo album. I liked it because her pictures helped me notice details that I had missed.

攒钱买特别物品

Describe a time when you saved money to buy something special

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- The item you bought
- Why you wanted it
- The way you saved for it
- Your feelings after the purchase

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about how I saved money to buy a smartwatch.

I wanted a smartwatch to track my exercise and sleep. I didn't need it right away. I saved some money from my salary each month and spent less on online shopping.

When I had enough money, I went to an Apple Store and tried a few models. A staff member asked what I needed the watch for and showed me the exercise, heart-rate and sleep functions.

She also showed me cheaper options and did not push the most expensive model. I compared the prices and read a few reviews. I also tried different models at the store to see which one felt comfortable. That helped me choose without rushing. After I chose one, she helped me set up the basic functions.

In the end, I felt good about buying the watch because I saved for it and still use it every day.

保护环境的法律

Describe a law on environmental protection

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- What the environmental law is
- How you first heard about it
- Who receives benefits from it
- How you feel about the law

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about Germany's bottle-deposit system, an environmental law I learned about online.

People can take empty plastic drink bottles to a recycling machine in a supermarket. For many drinks, people pay a small deposit when buying the bottle. After they return the empty bottle, they get that money back.

I think this helps people who often buy bottled drinks, because they can get back their own money simply by keeping the bottles. It also gives them a reason not to throw the bottles away.

I like this approach because it makes recycling part of a normal shopping trip. I first came across it in a short article about how supermarkets collect empty bottles. I thought the idea was practical because the return machines are usually near the entrance, so people can use them while shopping. It benefits the environment, but it also helps shops collect bottles in one place. I would welcome a similar system here, as long as the machines are easy to find and the refund process is clear.

包含动物的故事或书

Describe a story or book with animals in it

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- The animals in the story
- What happens in the story or book
- Why you read it
- What you think of the story

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about Zootopia, an animal story I really like.

The main character is Judy, a small rabbit who dreams of becoming a police officer. Other animals do not take her seriously because of her size. She meets Nick, a fox who is also judged unfairly.

The two characters end up working together on a difficult case. At first they do not fully trust each other, but they slowly learn to cooperate. One character cannot solve everything alone. They need each other's different strengths. I decided to watch it because I like animated films, and the animal characters made the city feel different from the real world. The story also talks about prejudice in a simple way. Judy has to prove that she can do the job, while Nick learns that people should not be judged by their background. I enjoyed the humour, but I also liked the serious message underneath.

I think Zootopia is a memorable animal story because the rabbit and fox challenge stereotypes and learn to work together.

我决定看这部作品，是因为我喜欢动画电影，动物角色让城市显得很有想象力。故事也用简单方式讨论偏见：Judy 要证明自己能胜任警察工作，Nick 则逐渐明白不能凭出身判断别人。我喜欢幽默，也喜欢背后的认真主题。

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- The recipient of your message
- What you wrote about
- Whether a reply eventually arrived
- Your feelings about the wait

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a time I waited over an hour for a reply from a concert-ticket seller.

For one concert trip, two friends and I made a group chat and divided the work. I looked for tickets, while one friend handled the hotel and transport.

We kept the booking details and meeting times in the same chat, so everyone knew what had already been arranged.

I was looking for tickets on a second-hand platform. One seller replied quickly at first. But when we discussed how to send the ticket, the seller suddenly stopped answering.

At that point, tickets were selling quickly and I was worried we would miss the show. I kept checking my phone, which made the wait feel longer. The first seller never replied, but I was relieved when the second person answered and sent the ticket details. That was why having a backup option mattered.

In the end, we secured the ticket and could continue planning the trip. I felt relieved because the wait had made me nervous.

名人广告

Describe an advertisement featuring a famous person

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who the celebrity is
- Where you have seen the ad
- What it promotes
- How you feel about the advertisement

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a Mid-Autumn advertisement with a Chinese member of my favourite K-pop group.

The product was a special mooncake set. She helped come up with the idea, and the box had her name and a small personal logo on it. That made the campaign feel more connected to her, instead of being a normal celebrity endorsement.

In the video, she also showed viewers how to make a simple snow-skin mooncake. I followed the steps at home, mixed the filling, wrapped it in the skin and pressed a pattern on top with a mould.

The main reason I noticed the advertisement was that I was already a fan of the singer. I first saw it on social media before the Mid-Autumn Festival, and I watched the video more than once. Because I liked her, I wanted to try making the mooncakes myself. I probably wouldn't have paid so much attention to an ordinary mooncake advertisement. It showed me how strongly a celebrity can influence fans.

I'd like to talk about a concert trip I organised with two friends as a small team.

We had to make quick decisions because the ticket situation could change at any time. We also checked the flight and hotel details with each other before paying. 想颁布的新法律

Describe a new law you would like your country to introduce

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- What law you suggest
- What changes it would bring
- Whether people would support it
- How you thought of the idea
- Your opinion of the proposed law

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a plastic-bottle recycling reward law that I'd introduce in my country.

I got the idea after reading about a bottle-return system in Germany. People can take empty plastic drink bottles to a recycling machine in a supermarket. In Germany, people can get back a deposit they paid when buying certain drinks.

In my version, people could get a few points or a small shopping discount for every bottle they return. They could still buy bottled drinks as usual, so the law would not take away their choices.

I think many people would support it because a small daily habit could bring a real benefit. If more bottles were collected, there would be less plastic waste and more material for recycling. I would start with supermarkets and shopping centres because they already have space for recycling machines. The points could be used for small discounts, which would make the reward easy to understand. I think a simple system would be more effective than a complicated one, especially for people who are busy.

I think this new law would work because it rewards people for recycling instead of limiting their choices.

早起经历

Describe a time when you got up early

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- When this happened
- What you did that morning
- Your reason for waking early
- How you felt about the experience

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a time I got up at three in the morning for a concert trip to Hong Kong.

I had originally planned to spend the weekend working overtime. Then my best friend and I heard that our favourite K-pop group might not stay together much longer. Our other friend joined the trip and helped organise the hotel, so the three of us decided to go together.

I finished the most urgent work first, told my team in advance and asked for a day off. We made the decision quite late, so the train was already sold out and we had to book an early flight.

The flight meant getting up at about three in the morning. I had packed the night before, but I was still very sleepy when I left home and went to the airport.

The trip was more tiring and a little more expensive than our original plan, but we reached the concert on time. I was glad we went because the work could still be finished later, but that concert could not be repeated.

Getting up at three was hard, but it felt worth it once the concert began.

The person I'd like to talk about is Claire, a friendly and popular classmate from school.

Claire and I met at school more than ten years ago. We used to draw together after class, and she often helped classmates with difficult homework.

If someone did not understand a question, she explained it in a simple way instead of making them feel bad. She was always patient, so other students often came to her for help.

She is also organised. She makes a short to-do list, and when we travel together, she checks transport and hotels but listens to other people's ideas. We still meet for coffee from time to time. Even when she was busy, she did not ignore people who asked for help. She remembered what classmates were working on and sometimes checked whether they had understood her explanation. I think people liked her not because she tried to be popular, but because she was genuinely considerate.

I think she is popular because she is helpful and easy-going. People feel comfortable asking her questions and spending time with her.

I'd like to talk about an enjoyable evening at a K-pop concert in Hong Kong with two close friends.

We had been fans of the same K-pop group for years, so the three of us were excited long before the show started. We had dinner near the venue and talked about the songs we hoped to hear. We arrived early and took photos outside the venue before going in.

When the lights went down, everyone started cheering and singing along. I could hardly hear my friends, but we enjoyed every minute.

After the concert, we met some other fans at a café near the venue. There were about twelve of us, and we shared photos, talked about our favourite songs and laughed a lot. My favourite moment was when the group played a song we all knew. We sang along, took photos and talked about it afterwards. It was lovely to share the show with friends.

最不喜欢的电影

Describe your least favourite movie

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- When you watched it
- Where you saw it
- What the story was about
- Why it is your least favourite film

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a movie I didn't enjoy as much as I'd expected: Zootopia 2. I watched it at home one weekend evening after enjoying the first film.

The story still follows Judy and Nick on a new case, and there are several new characters. I went in with high expectations, but some parts spent a long time explaining the city's history.

The first movie felt fresh because I was discovering the animal city for the first time. In the second one, I had to remember more names and background details. Sometimes I lost track of what Judy and Nick were actually trying to solve. I also felt that some jokes were repeated, so the story did not move forward as smoothly as I expected. I know it can be hard to make a sequel. Still, this one didn't surprise me as much as the first film. I probably would not watch it again.

I think the sequel disappointed me because it was harder to follow than the first film and less surprising.

I'd like to talk about a time I listened to my pottery friend discussing technical things I wasn't very interested in.

I already liked her creative pottery, but I did not know much about different clays or firing temperatures. The technical words meant very little to me, and I found the explanation hard to follow. Still, she was clearly excited, so I did not want to be rude.

Near the end, she showed me a few colourful modern pieces on her phone. I liked the designs, but I still preferred looking at the final pieces to listening to technical details. I continued listening because she was my friend and I knew the subject mattered to her. I asked a few simple questions when she paused, which helped me understand the basic idea. It reminded me that people may be interested in things that seem boring to us. I felt a little impatient at first, but I tried to stay polite.

I didn't learn much about firing temperatures, but I enjoyed seeing how interested she was in her work. For me, that was enough.

有条理的人

Describe a person you know who is very organised

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who they are
- Their habits for staying organised
- When you have noticed this quality
- Why being organised matters to them

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is Claire, one of the most organised people I know.

Claire and I met at school more than ten years ago. I first noticed how organised she was when we had class projects and homework to finish together.

At school, she made a short list of things to finish and broke difficult homework into smaller steps. If someone did not understand a question, she explained it in a simple way instead of making them feel bad.

She still uses a simple to-do list on her laptop. When we plan a trip, she checks transport and hotels, but she can change the plan when needed. She does not make a complicated schedule for every hour. Instead, she writes down the most important tasks and decides what needs to be done first. I think this works well because she can still adjust her plan if something unexpected happens. It is a simple habit, but it helps her stay calm.

I think being organised helps her save time and support other people. Her plans are simple enough to keep using even when she is busy.

Before she left, she was worried about missing her flight or getting lost after arriving. We practised the route from the airport to the hotel, saved the address on her phone and checked how to contact the event organiser. She also kept her passport and booking details together. These steps did not remove every worry, but they gave her enough confidence to continue.

During the trip, she used maps on her phone and sent us a message after reaching the hotel. I felt proud because she had faced her fear and managed the journey herself. She came back much more confident, and I think she succeeded because she followed the plan and was brave enough to try.

I'd like to talk about my friend Claire's apartment, which I enjoy visiting but wouldn't want to live in.

Claire lives in a small apartment, and my favourite part is her balcony. She grows tomatoes there in a few pots because she wanted something simple to care for at home.

She bought the soil and seeds herself. She waters the plants, checks the leaves and moves the pots when they need more sunlight. When the first tomatoes appeared, she sent me photos because she was really excited.

When I visit, we often sit near the balcony, have a drink and talk. The apartment feels personal because there are plants, drawings and art supplies around the room. She also keeps her art supplies and books in the living room, so the space can look a little busy. I like visiting because it shows her personality, but I prefer a larger home with more room to store things. I would also like a quieter place to work and relax.

Claire's home feels personal and cosy, so I love visiting her. But I wouldn't want to live there. It's small and doesn't have much storage.

我很喜欢去、却不想住的地方是 Claire 的公寓。她住在一间小公寓，我最喜欢阳台：她在那里用几个花盆种番茄，因为想在家照顾一些简单的植物。她自己买土和种子，浇水、检查叶子，需要更多阳光时还会挪动花盆。第一批番茄长出来时，她兴奋地拍照给我看。我去做客时，我们常坐在阳台附近喝东西聊天，屋里有植物、画作和美术用品，很有她个人的风格。我喜欢那种温馨感，但空间小、储物不足，很容易显得拥挤，所以不想自己住进去。她还把画材和书放在客厅，所以空间有时显得有点杂乱。我喜欢去她家，因为那里很有她的个人风格，但自己更喜欢空间大、收纳更多的房子，也需要更安静的地方工作和休息。

擅长学习和说语言的人

Describe a person good at learning and speaking new languages

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- How you know the person
- Their language-learning method
- The languages they can speak
- How you feel about their abilities

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is my friend Claire, who is very good at learning new languages.

Claire and I met at school more than ten years ago. She speaks English and has also been learning Japanese for several years.

To practise English, she watches Friends and chats with people online. Instead of only memorising words, she tries to use simple expressions in real conversations.

For Japanese, she uses a learning app regularly and keeps a short list of useful phrases on her laptop. She does not mind making mistakes, so she speaks whenever she has a chance. She also studies a little every day, even if she only has ten minutes. When she learns a phrase, she writes it down and tries to use it in a message or conversation. She is not embarrassed to ask people to repeat something when she does not understand. I admire her consistency.

So I think Claire is good at languages because she uses what she learns and is not afraid of making mistakes.

Describe a live sports event you watched and liked

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- What sports event it was
- When and where you watched
- Who watched with you
- Why you liked this event

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a women's ice hockey match I watched in Vancouver with my best friend.

It was my first time watching women's ice hockey in person. Many people wore team jerseys, and the crowd was already excited before the match started. The arena felt very different from watching sport on TV.

At first, I found the puck difficult to follow because it moved so quickly and looked tiny from our seats. After a while, I got used to the speed and started understanding when something important was happening. Even when the US pulled further ahead, I noticed one Canadian player who stayed active and kept directing her teammates. There were also several fast changes in the game, and the players had to react immediately. My friend explained some of the rules to me, so I gradually understood why the team moved in certain ways. Even though I did not know every rule, I enjoyed the energy and felt more interested in the sport afterwards.

Looking back, I enjoyed the match because the atmosphere made a new sport exciting, even though the Canadian team lost.

Describe a plan that you had to change recently

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- When the change happened
- Why the original plan changed
- What your new plan was
- How you felt about the change

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a plan I changed recently so I could go to a K-pop concert.

I had originally planned to spend the weekend working overtime. Then my best friend and I heard that our favourite K-pop group might not stay together much longer. Our other friend joined the trip and helped organise the hotel, so the three of us decided to go together.

I finished the most urgent work first, told my team in advance and asked for a day off. We made the decision quite late, so the train was already sold out and we had to book an early flight.

The flight meant getting up at about three in the morning. I had packed the night before, but I was still very sleepy when I left home and went to the airport.

The trip was more tiring and a little more expensive than our original plan, but we reached the concert on time. I was glad we went because the work could still be finished later, but that concert could not be repeated.

Looking back, I felt happy with the change because the urgent work was finished and the concert was a one-time chance.

The person I'd like to talk about is Claire, a friend who enjoys growing tomatoes on her balcony.

She bought the soil and seeds herself. She waters the plants, checks the leaves and moves the pots when they need more sunlight. When I visit, we often sit near the balcony, have a drink and talk. The apartment feels personal because there are plants, drawings and art supplies around the room.

有趣视频

Describe an interesting video

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Where and when you watched it
- The video's subject
- Why you chose to watch it
- Your opinion of the video

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a short video about a local pottery market that I saw on social media.

I almost skipped it because I used to think pottery was old-fashioned. The clip was only about two or three minutes long, so it was easy to finish.

The video showed hands shaping clay and then showed the finished pieces. There were colourful cups, small sculptures and cute character-shaped objects, not just plain bowls.

A few young makers said they wanted younger people to notice traditional crafts. I liked that idea because the old technique could still produce something modern and fun. I watched it in the evening after work because I wanted something short and relaxing. I was curious about the process, especially how a plain piece of clay could become a finished object. The video was easy to follow, and it gave me an idea of visiting the market in person one day.

I liked the video because it changed my opinion of pottery. I used to think it was old-fashioned, but now I find it creative.

I'd like to talk about an interview with Soyeon, the leader of (G)I-DLE, that I watched on YouTube.

After going to the group's concert in Hong Kong with two close friends, I wanted to learn more about them. We had been fans for years, and the show made me curious about their story.

At home a few days later, I found an older interview about their 2022 comeback. Soyeon talked about the pressure after a member had left and how the remaining members prepared a new album.

She said it felt almost like starting again. Even when things were difficult, she wanted the team to move forward. I liked how she spoke openly instead of pretending everything was easy. Before that, I had only seen the group perform. Hearing her talk about their difficulties helped me understand them better. It was not a dramatic interview, but it felt honest, and that made a stronger impression on me.

I respected her more after watching it. The concert showed me the exciting side of the group, while the interview helped me understand the hard work behind it.

擅长做手工的人

Describe someone who is good at making things by hand

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who the craftsperson is
- The things they make
- Their materials or techniques
- Why you think their craft skills are good

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is a pottery friend who is very good at making things by hand.

My friend is a pottery craftsperson and she runs a small studio. She is interested in the history of Chinese pottery, so she often looks at old bowls, shapes and patterns in museums or online.

She does not just copy old designs. She takes ideas from them and makes colourful cups, small sculptures and character-shaped pieces. She still shapes the clay by hand and fires it in a kiln.

I have watched her work in the studio, and she can make small changes very quickly. I like the way she keeps the traditional technique but makes the final pieces look modern. She chooses clay and glaze carefully, and checks the shape before firing because small mistakes can become more obvious afterwards. Her attention to detail makes her work look professional.

So I admire her ability to turn a simple piece of clay into something neat and detailed.

Describe a happy person you know

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who this person is
- What their personality is like
- How they show happiness
- Why you consider them a happy person

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is Claire, a cheerful friend I've known since school.

Claire and I first met at school more than ten years ago. When we were younger, we often talked after class about music and drawing, and she used to draw in the margins of her notebooks.

When we meet, she usually smiles and asks me about my week. She enjoys simple plans like getting coffee or taking a short trip, and she does not get upset when plans change.

Outside work, she still draws, grows tomatoes on her balcony and sometimes meets friends for coffee. For example, when her first tomatoes appeared, she immediately sent me a photo because she was so happy. She does not need a big event to feel happy. Even a good cup of coffee or a message from a friend can improve her mood. I think she is positive because she notices these small moments instead of waiting for something special to happen.

Describe a person who met difficulties but succeeded

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who the person is
- What obstacles they faced
- How they overcame the difficulties
- Your thoughts about this person

The person I'd like to talk about is my younger sister, who managed her first trip abroad alone.

She really wanted to attend a K-pop fan meeting, but the airport, hotel and venue all made her nervous. I helped her choose a safe hotel, check the visa process and go through the route before she left.

Before she left, she was afraid of missing her flight or getting lost in another country. We practised the route from the airport to the hotel, saved the address on her phone and checked how to contact the event organiser. She also kept her passport and booking details together. These steps did not remove every worry, but they gave her enough confidence to continue.

During the trip, she used maps on her phone and sent us a message after reaching the hotel. I felt proud because she had faced her fear and managed everything herself. She came back much more confident, and I think she succeeded because she followed the plan and was brave enough to try.

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to recommend a large forest park with a lake on the outskirts of Guangzhou. I went there with a friend for a weekend day trip.

One weekend morning, my friend and I rented bikes near the entrance and rode along the paths beside the lake. We could stop whenever we wanted to take photos and enjoy the view.

There are green hills, tall trees and quiet paths around the water. We could hear birds and feel the cool air under the trees. The lake is my favourite part because the water reflects the trees when the weather is calm.

There are also places to sit, so people who don't want to cycle can enjoy the view. It's peaceful and different from the busy shopping areas in Guangzhou.

I enjoy this place because I can exercise and enjoy nature without leaving the city. It feels much more relaxing than a busy shopping centre.

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about snow-skin mooncakes, a special food my family ate during the Mid-Autumn Festival.

One Mid-Autumn Festival when I was little, my mother taught me to make snow-skin mooncakes at home. She wanted us to make something together instead of buying everything from a shop.

First, she showed me how to wrap sweet filling inside soft dough. Then we pressed the dough into a mould to make a pattern on top. It looked easy when she did it.

But I pressed mine too hard, and it came out in a strange shape. My mother laughed and showed me how to press more gently. After a few tries, I finally made one that looked right. I liked that the mould left a traditional pattern on top, even though my first attempt was uneven.

They are usually cut into small pieces, so everyone can try a little. I like these mooncakes because they are soft and a little sweet, and making them with my family made the occasion special.

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is my friend Claire, who runs a successful online art platform.

Claire and I met at school more than ten years ago. She later turned her interest in drawing into a small online art business. Her platform works with artists and lets customers preview how paintings might look in their rooms before buying them.

She started with only a few artists and posted regularly on social media. Over time, more people followed the platform, and it later joined some exhibitions overseas.

I like the AR preview because it solves a simple problem. Customers can see a painting on their wall before buying it. That makes choosing one easier. Claire also listens to feedback and fixes things that confuse customers. I think people return to the platform because it is useful and easy to understand.

I think Claire has built a successful business because she understands both artists' needs and customers' concerns.

Claire and I met at school more than ten years ago. We used to draw together after class, and she often helped classmates with difficult homework.

喜欢或不喜欢的高建筑

Describe a tall building you like or dislike

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- What the building is used for
- Where it is located
- What it looks like
- Why you like or dislike it

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about K11, a tall building in downtown Guangzhou. It has several floors of shops, offices above them and art exhibitions from time to time.

From outside, K11 looks tall and modern, with glass walls and office floors above the shopping centre. Inside, there are artworks, colourful lights and small design displays, so it feels more creative than a normal mall.

I often visit with a friend to see new displays or have coffee. The exhibitions change from time to time. The building is both a tall landmark and a nice place to spend an afternoon. The building is easy to recognise from the street because it stands among many lower buildings. I like the contrast between its modern outside and the creative spaces inside. It is not just somewhere to shop; people can also meet friends, see an exhibition or get a coffee there.

The offices above the shops make the building easy to recognise. I also like its art exhibitions. They make it more interesting than an ordinary mall.

我想介绍广州中心的 K11，一栋我喜欢的高层建筑。它下面几层是购物中心，上面有办公楼。从外面看，整栋楼很高、很现代，有玻璃外墙；内部也有艺术品、彩色灯光和设计陈列。我有时和朋友去看展、喝咖啡，展览也会不时更新。我喜欢它，不只是因为建筑高大、在周围很显眼，也因为里面有艺术和日常活动，不像普通商场。从街上很容易认出这栋楼，因为它比周围许多低层建筑都高。我喜欢外部现代感和内部创意空间之间的对比。它不只是购物的地方，人们也能见朋友、看展览或喝咖啡。

读起来开心的书

Describe a book that made you happy

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- What the book is and its story
- Why you decided to read it
- What you found interesting or exciting
- Why the book made you happy

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about an illustrated storybook based on Zootopia. I picked it up because I had enjoyed the film and wanted to see the pictures in the book.

The book version follows Judy, a small rabbit who dreams of becoming a police officer. Other animals do not take her seriously because of her size. She meets a fox who is also judged by a stereotype.

In the story, they work together on a difficult case. At first they do not fully trust each other, but they slowly learn to cooperate. I like the way their different strengths help them solve the problem. I also liked the way the story shows that first impressions can be wrong. Judy looks small and Nick seems untrustworthy, but both of them prove to be more capable than others expect. The pictures make the animal city easy to imagine, and I could remember the scenes because I already knew the characters from the film.

I think the story is heartwarming because Judy and Nick learn to trust each other. The colourful illustrations also made the book enjoyable to read.

我想介绍一本以《疯狂动物城》为基础的插画故事书。我看过电影，喜欢里面的角色，因此想看看书里的插图。故事讲小兔子 Judy 梦想当警察，却因为体型小受到轻视；她遇见了也常被别人误解的狐狸 Nick。两人合作调查案件，起初不信任对方，后来逐渐学会合作。我喜欢他们用不同的长处解决问题，也喜欢书里色彩丰富的插图。故事既温暖又有趣，让我读完很开心。 我还喜欢故事表达的意思：第一印象可能是错的。Judy 看起来弱小，Nick 似乎不值得信任，但他们都证明自己比别人想象中更有能力。插图让动物城市容易想象，因为我已经认识电影里的角色，所以也更容易记住情节。

有健康习惯和作息的人

Describe a person who has healthy habits and a healthy daily routine

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who this person is
- How you got to know them
- What they do to stay healthy
- How you feel about their lifestyle

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is Claire, a friend who has a healthy and manageable daily routine.

Claire and I met at school more than ten years ago. She usually exercises in the morning, but if work gets busy, she moves her workout to the afternoon instead of skipping it.

Before going to bed, she reads a little and makes a short to-do list for the next day. It helps her relax, and she does not have to worry about what to do in the morning. She does not follow an extreme diet or spend hours at the gym. She prefers ordinary meals, enough sleep and exercise that fits her schedule. I like this flexible attitude because it makes healthy habits realistic. It reminds me that small things done regularly matter more than a perfect plan.

So I think these habits help Claire stay healthy because they are simple enough to continue even when she is busy at work.

我想介绍有健康作息的朋友 Claire。我们十多年前在学校认识。她通常早上运动，如果工作忙，也会灵活调整，而不是直接放弃。睡前她会读一会儿书，再列第二天的简短待办清单，这让她更放松，早上也不会慌乱。她不会极端节食，也不会花几个小时在健身房。她更喜欢普通饮食、充足睡眠和适合自己日程的运动。我喜欢这种灵活态度，因为它让健康习惯更现实，也让我明白规律做小事比追求完美计划更重要。

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who you helped
- Why they needed help
- What you did for them
- How you felt about helping

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a time I helped my younger sister prepare for her first trip to South Korea.

She really wanted to attend a K-pop fan meeting in South Korea, but the airport, hotel and venue all made her nervous. Since nobody in our family could go with her, she wasn't sure if she should go.

I encouraged her and helped her make a travel plan. We chose a safe hotel, checked the visa process and looked at the route together. I also reminded her to arrive early, so she would not feel rushed.

She was still nervous, but having a clear plan made the trip feel possible. During the trip, she used maps on her phone and sent us a message after reaching the hotel. I stayed available by phone in case she needed help, but she managed the journey herself.

In the end, I was glad I could support her without taking over the whole trip.

我想说一次帮助妹妹准备第一次独自去韩国旅行的经历。她很想参加一场 K-pop 粉丝见面会，但想到机场、酒店和活动场馆就紧张。家里没人能陪她去，她也不知道自己该不该出发。我鼓励她并帮她制定计划：一起挑选安全的酒店、查签证流程、查看路线，还提醒她早点到。她仍然有些紧张，但清晰的计划让这趟旅行变得可行。旅途中，她用手机地图找路，到酒店后给我们发消息。我也保持电话畅通，以防她需要帮助，但她最终独立完成了旅程。我很开心自己能支持她，同时没有替她包办一切。

钦佩的运动员

Describe a successful sportsperson you admire

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who the athlete is
- What you know about them
- What they are like outside competition
- Their main achievements
- Why you admire them

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about the captain of Canada's women's ice hockey team. I first noticed her at a match in Vancouver.

It was Canada against the United States, and it was my first time watching women's ice hockey live. The puck moved so fast that I could hardly follow the game. My friend explained a few basic rules to me during the match.

She was very active and kept giving directions to her teammates. Even as the US scored more goals, she stayed focused and tried to organise attacks.

Later, I learned that she has won three Olympic gold medals. Outside matches, she supports programmes that help children try sport. I admire that she cares about young players as well as her own career. In interviews, she seems calm and often talks about the team rather than only herself. I think she is a good example of a team leader.

I admire her because she stays calm under pressure and encourages her teammates, even when they are losing. I'd like to be that positive when things get difficult.

我想介绍一位我钦佩的运动员：加拿大女子冰球队的队长。我第一次在温哥华看比赛时注意到她。 那是加拿大对美国的比赛，也是我第一次现场看女子冰球。冰球移动太快了，我几乎跟不上比赛。朋友在现场给我解释了几条简单规则。
她非常活跃，一直给队友指示。即使美国队进了更多球，她也保持专注，努力组织进攻。 后来我了解到，她获得过三枚奥运金牌。比赛之外，她支持帮助儿童接触体育的项目。我欣赏她不仅关心自己的职业发展，也关心年轻运动员。采访中她看起来很冷静，经常谈队伍，而不是只说自己。我觉得她是很好的队长。
我钦佩她，因为即使落后，她也能在压力下保持冷静，鼓励队友。我也希望自己遇到困难时能保持这种积极态度。

Describe a friend of yours who is creative

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- Who he/she is
- How you met him/her
- What materials he/she uses when making things by hand
- And explain why you think he/she is a creative person

COMPLETE ANSWER

The person I'd like to talk about is my pottery friend, who runs a small studio and makes creative pieces by hand.

I met her at a pottery workshop after seeing a short video about a local craft market. She enjoys learning about Chinese pottery history, including traditional shapes and patterns.

She does not simply copy those old designs. She takes inspiration from them and makes colourful cups, small sculptures and cute character-shaped pieces. She still shapes the clay by hand and fires it in a kiln.

I have watched her work in the studio. She is careful with small details, even when she makes a simple cup. She also chooses the colours and glaze herself. I like the way she tries new shapes without forgetting traditional methods. Her work always feels personal.

So I think she is creative because she combines traditional pottery techniques with new ideas. As someone who works in design, I admire her approach.

我想说一位很有创造力的陶艺朋友。她经营一个小工作室，擅长手工制作有趣的作品。我先看到一条本地手工市集的视频，后来参加陶艺工作室的体验课时认识她。她喜欢研究中国陶艺的历史，包括传统的器型和图案。
她不会直接照搬旧设计，而是从中汲取灵感，做出彩色杯子、小雕塑和可爱的角色造型。她用手塑形，再放进窑里烧制。
我看过她在工作室里做陶艺。即使是简单的杯子，她也非常注意小细节。她会自己选择颜色和釉料。我喜欢她尝试新造型，同时又保留传统制作方法，所以作品总有个人特色。

不会用的科技产品

Describe a piece of technology you own that is difficult to use

YOU SHOULD SAY:

- When you got the device
- Why you bought or got it
- How often you use it
- How you feel about using it

COMPLETE ANSWER

I'd like to talk about a smartwatch that I found difficult to use at first.

When I bought it at an Apple Store, a staff member showed me the basic functions and helped me set it up. But when I started using it on my own, I found some parts confusing.

There were so many icons and settings that I did not know where to look. For example, I could see my activity rings, but I did not understand all the numbers. I also had trouble finding my sleep reports.

I searched online for simple instructions and tried the different features one by one. After a while, I learned how to check my steps, daily activity and sleep. At first, I only used it to check the time, so I wondered whether buying it had been a good idea. Once I understood the main functions, I started checking my steps during the day and looking at my sleep data in the morning. Now it has become part of my routine.

Now I feel much more confident using it, and I can see why people find smartwatches useful.

我想说一块刚开始使用时让我觉得很难的智能手表。购买时，Apple Store 的店员给我介绍了基础功能并帮我设置。但自己开始使用后，我发现有些地方很难理解。屏幕上有很多图标和设置，我不知道该从哪里看起。例如，我能看到活动圆环，却不明白所有数字的意思，也很难找到睡眠报告。我在网上搜索简单说明，并逐一尝试不同功能。过了一段时间，我学会了查看步数、日常活动和睡眠数据。一开始我只用它看时间，甚至怀疑买它是否值得。现在我使用它时更有信心，也理解了为什么很多人觉得智能手表有用。
